

JPMA Certification Program

COMMUNICATING YOUR COMMITMENT TO SAFETY

NO SLEEPING WHEN IT COMES TO SAFETY

With the increased regulatory scrutiny of juvenile products, the Juvenile Products Manufacturers Association (JPMA), created a unique protocol for testing that can help save companies time and money when introducing products to USA market.

SGS is a JPMA approved partner testing laboratory. With the largest JPMA test lab we have extensive expertise and experience in quality, compliance and safety in the child care products industry, worldwide. Certification Members can display the JPMA certification seal (on the product, Packaging and their Websites). This mark is well regarded by consumers providing confidence the products meet the highest safety standards.

MEETING REGULATORY U.S. STANDARDS

The Certification Program is based on conformance with ASTM, Federal Regulations including CPSIA and individual state requirements. It also takes into account some popular retailer requirements. Trying to accommodate all of the requirements individually can result in redundant testing, costing in companies valuable time and money.

The JPMA program includes a focus on upstream testing in manufacturing and pre-market certification of children's products in more than 30 different categories.

BENEFITS FOR RETAILERS, MANUFACTURERS AND IMPORTERS

- Offers a more comprehensive and logical flow of testing
- Appeals to retailers and also to both small and large manufacturers
- Sets a standard level accepted by government and retailers
- Reduces testing duplication and redundancy – with JPMA you can fulfil multiple retailer requirements in one testing program, saving time and money
- Increases consumers' and retailers' confidence through third-party testing
- JPMA Certification Seal (that can be affixed on products and packaging) has a strong recognition by consumers – it shows that products have met the highest safety standards
