

Easily Import Vegetable Oil into China

Trusted.
Independent.
Committed.

The SGS logo is located in the bottom right corner of the image. It consists of the letters 'SGS' in a bold, white, sans-serif font, with a vertical orange line to the right of the letters. The background of the entire page is a high-angle photograph of an oil tanker's deck, showing a complex network of pipes, railings, and white storage tanks against a backdrop of a clear blue sky and the ocean.

Our experienced staff will help you every step of the way, ensuring that the vegetable oil importation – and exportation – process is as seamless as possible.

Importing vegetable oils into China has its challenges, particularly when it comes to maintaining quality and meeting stringent regulations. Our industry-leading testing, inspection, certification, and risk management solutions, underpinned by our advanced market intelligence capabilities will help you to overcome the complexities and meet necessary requirements.

What's needed from you

- A Certificate of Analysis (COA) for all imported vegetable oil shipments must be submitted to the General Administration of Customs of the People's Republic of China (GACC), to meet China's national food safety standards
- A list detailing the vehicles/ships that will be used to transport the first three loads of cargo, as well as their carrying limitations
- All accompanying documents, including the exporter registration form for Chinese customs and the relevant food safety certifications, must be submitted to the GACC prior to arranging the shipment to China

How we can help

In-depth testing and inspection services are the key to ensuring quality, quantity and a seamless process. We offer:

- Trusted and independent inspection services at both the loading and discharge port
